A Converted Democrat

Secretary Seward, in his late Auburn speech said that the Democratic party had been disloyal —but that it had now become "converted" As a fair specimen of "Converted" Democrats—that class with whom Seward and Johnson are consorting—take the editor of the La Crosse (Wisconsin) Democrat, who writes in the following vein in reply to an article in the Cincinnati Commercial

The Commercial has our thanks for its compliments It tells some truths, viz —we are editor of the La Crosse Democrat—we rejoiced that Lincoln was called home—we said Johnson was a statesman more than a low wit, etc —we wrote a letter to Bill Arp, to call, and we look to a pleasant reunion with the South at some time, but never under Abolition rule But we were never owned by a slave driver, not a bit more than we have been awed by the minions of tyranny—than we have been driven from our position by the hirelings of power, the libels on abolition editors, the ropes, bayonets or prisons threatened, or the bribes of the late Administration We did thank God for calling Lincoln home If Lincoln is in Heaven, as Abolitionists say, he is better off than he was in Washington, beset by thieves, Abolitionists army contractors, office seekers, and gaping listeners to his smutty jokes As a friend of Lincoln, we thanked God for calling so great and good a man home before he should become disgusted with the Annas the Janes the Tandlroses, the Benjamins, the Charleses, the Freds, and others of the leaders of the God Morality party

We thank God for calling Lincoln into the presence and company of Democrats, as he is in Heaven The poor President suffered quite enough from being with Abolitionists on earth, and we thanked God for calling him beyond their reach or influence here or hereafter

Whatever is, is right God, who rules all, wanted Lincoln removed—He made Booth His agent—no one but God is to blame for Lincoln's death—God is never to blame—we, who are Christians, should thank Him for everything—we do so thank Him—he who does not thank God is no Christian—those who assail us are no Christians.

We believe the country is better off now than when Lincoln was alive

We believe more in statesmanship than in nigger songs or in humorous yarns in time of war.

We believe Lincoln was a mere man of putty in the hands of traitors and thieves, known latterly as Abolitionists.

We believe God saw that he was not useful, even if ornamental, and removed him to make room for a better man.

We believe Johnson is a better man than Lincoln—if he had not been surely the great Republican party would not have gone out of the Union for a candidate for the Vice Presidency, when they had so many good, pure, honorable statesmen in the North!

We believe the country would be better off today if every Republican and Abolition traitor, meddler, sycophant, apologist, thief, traitor, or tool of traitors, were in the bosom of Abraham

We believe further that the Abolition party is going to the devil, and we do not care how quick.

And we still further believe that "Brick" Pomeroy has more true friends in the country than Lincoln ever had—that we do not care the snap of a finger for the good or ill opinion of all the Abolition editors in the land—that we shall edit this paper just as we see fit, and do what no one of our assailants dare do—tell the truth without fear or favor.

FAITH IN WITCHCRAFT LOST.—Lyman Bryant writes from Freedom, Portage county, Ohio, to the American Institute Farmers' Club

"I came to Ohio in 1838 I commenced my well where I wanted it. When I had gone down some seven feet, a neighbor came along, who was a water witch. He got a peach crotch, and went around the ground, and informed me it was the size of my well from the vein, and advise me to fill up and commence anew. I demurred. He persisted that I would get no water unless I went very deep, and so told my neighbors. He thought me very foolish to dig in that place. "Ah, well," said he, "let him dig; he will find out I could have saved him something." I did not take his advice, but dug on, and at eleven feet the water rushed in so fast that, with all the help that could work, in less than twenty minutes it was up to my thighs. I had to fill up with some feet of stone before I could commence walling. A friend in another town gave me his experience. "He said, "It was difficult to get a well on my father's farm, had to dig a great depth; finally they got a water witch, and took a circuit around from the house, and at the very place it was told them they could find water a stake was driven down. At length they adjourned to the house to talk and drink cider." My friend then went and moved every stake about a rod from where it was set, and then went to the house and says. "Come, let us go around once more and see if we have got the stakes all right" The witch took his stick and at every stake down it went, as at the first finding. Consequently, says Bryant, his faith and mine in water-witches is not strong.

SEVERE ON THE FLUNKIES.—The New York Tribune scarifies the Washington flunkies as follows:

A number of young clerks constitutionally indisposed to hard work, and who never saw a plow or a hammer, but manage to earn a livelihood in odd corners of the Departments, have leveled some crushing resolutions at those contemptuous Senators who call them "political grubs." From the tone of these resolutions, we judge that, though the "Departmental Club" support the President earnestly, it would support the next President with equal vim. These spirited resolves declare that the club "cannot be intimidated"—not they. The Senator from Nevada is "despised," and the imputations of the Senator from California are "hurled back (when was not a law-abiding clerk ready to hurl back!) with scorn and indignation." Congress is informed that it "cannot intimidate this organization," and if the members of the "Johnson Departmental Club" have joined in petitioning for higher salary, it was because their board bills were unusually high —Against an attack like this we have a notion that the citadels of Congress can not hold out long

The wisdom of Rowland Hill's system of cheap postage, the largest accommodation for the largest number, is receiving a fuller vindication in England every year The revenue from the post office is increasing so rapidly, as to give reason for believing that it will soon deliver the country from the most offensive of all imposts, the income tax The surplus revenue, last year, from this source, was $7 500 000 and the surplus increases at the rate of $1 500,000 The secret of the profit has been discovered It lies in the establishment of frequent deliveries of letters in all large towns, with no extra charge for delivery. Two cents will send a letter to all parts of the United Kingdom, and put it in the hands of the person to whom it is addressed Nobody thinks much of two cents, and will pay it on a letter containing the most trivial inquiry, when he knows the post will bring him an answer in less than two days People invite each other to dinner, to the theatre, for a drive in the afternoon, for whatever comes uppermost, by letter The transaction costs the Government less than half a cent, leaving three hundred per cent profit

FAITH IN PRACTICE —A great excitement was created among the adherents of the negro bureau in Mobile a few days ago, by the marriage in that city of a former slave of Gen Beauregard's to a white woman by the name of Jones, and a teacher of the freedmen The couple have left for the home of the woman's parents in the North, where there will doubtless be a great jubilee over this manifestation of Civil Rights when the pair arrive As the unfortunate female's parents were doubtless Abolitionists and are now in the Radical faith, they cannot but be rejoiced at the progress that has been made by their docile offspring But, seriously, this case presents the light of a public affront and comes under the laws of Alabama that declare miscegenation a penitentiary offense.—Examiner

We suppose this man, if not a mythe, was one of Beauregard's sons, and the Examiner ought not to object to a marriage in the royal family — Appeal.

Places for Settlement North of the Columbia River

From the Mountaineer of the 27th inst, we extract the following article descriptive of the fine valleys on the tributaries of the Yakama river

Eighty miles north of this place (Dalles) is the Attanum valley, on the creek of that name It empties into the Yakima, which runs from north to south along the base of the Cascade range, and at the mouth of the Attanum turns and runs to the east, emptying into the Columbia some miles above Wallula This valley has an average width of three miles of arable land on the north side of the creek, open to pre emption There is a sufficiency of cottonwood, balm, birch, and alder on the creek for ordinary uses. In the upper part of the valley, which is, in all, about twenty miles long, there is an abundance of pine and a considerable quantity of oak timber The lands are rich, warm alluvium, with a fine retaining sub-soil of clay and marl. There are also tracts of desirable lands which need irrigation, and are of particular value for orchards and vineyards Water can easily be conducted to any and all lands in the valley. The climate is milder than in the Dalles, and we are informed by men who have settled in the valley that during the past winter—which was a hard one—three thousand head of cattle lived well in the Attanum and Yakima valleys At this time there are many thousand head of cattle in the valley on the tributaries of the Yakima In fact, the Attanum is the rendezvous of many of the cattle drovers to the mines It is there that their stock is kept until a market is found, and its central position renders it very favorable for driving in any direction From the mouth of the Attanum it is only thirty miles to White Bluffs; eighty to Walla Walla, eighty to the Dalles, one hundred and fifty to Fort Hope and about the same distance to Olympia From that valley the stock-raiser will find conveniences to drive his stock to any point of the compass where a market may be offered. Going by White Bluffs he can reach the new mines of Montana in as short a distance, and over as good a road, as from Walla Walla. It is also in the range of probabilities that an extensive mining country will be right at the doors of settlers in that valley. Gold has been profitably worked in that neighborhood, on the Weenatchee and those diggings were only abandoned in consequence of the discovery of the Nez Perces mines. There are at present, ten families settled in the Attanum, principally from the Sound country, and it is known that there are several more families now on their way thither.

In the Yakima Valley there are forty actual settlers, which number they expect to be increased to one hundred before the close of the present season. In conversation with men from Yakima, they expressed the opinion that no where on the coast is there such inducements for men to settle as in the valley named. Men are now employed in surveying the land, and steps have been taken for the organization of the county of Yakima

Thirty-five miles north of the Attanum Valley is the great Valley of Keetattis. This valley has the same general advantages of the Attanum, but is vastly more extensive, having a length of sixty miles and an average width of twenty. There are also fine lands in the Yakima Valley, above and below the Simcoe Reservation, and we do not describe these for the simple reason that the description of the Attanum gives a fair idea of more than fifty times the amount of farming land that now lies open to settlement.

We recommend these lands to those who are in search of permanent homesteads. At the Dalles the settler can find a ready market for his wares, while the mines of Montana and Big Bend are accessible to the stock raiser. It would be a good idea for persons having interests in this city, and leisure to devote to this matter, to represent the advantages of these valleys to immigrants the present season, and put them in the way of getting information about desirable locations. The healthfulness and beauty of the climate, of the section under consideration, is a very important point to be represented. We are informed that the prevailing winds, which are the only disagreeable feature about the climate of the Dalles, are totally unknown, and the atmosphere is of a crystalline purity—at once mild and elastic, with only a healthful motion.

LANDS FOR THE LANDLESS.—The passage (on the 14th of June) of the bill throwing open the public lands of the South to the poor whites and blacks will work a revolution in the condition of the United States. An exchange estimates that the quantity of surveyed, unsold public land, all of which will become subject to entry by actual settlers under the bill, was in February last: In Arkansas, 9,298,012 70, Alabama, 6,732,008 80, Florida, 19,379,635 61, Louisiana, 6,228,102 45; Mississippi, 4,760,730.05; or a total of 46,398,511 acres Of course not all of this domain is capable of cultivation. But most of it is, according to the records of the General Land-office, and it will afford homes to hundreds of thousands of settlers. It is estimated indeed that no less than 50,000,000 of acres of arable land will be thrown open to the landless people of the South. This will give 375,000 homesteads, allowing five persons to a family. Means of independent support will thus be afforded to no less than 1,875,000 persons

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING JULY 30 1866

Who has Gone Over?

It has not been long since President Johnson declared it to be his purpose to settle the difficulties attending the subject of reconstruction within the Union party Nor has it been long since he assured that excellent but deceivable patriot General Cox that his whole heart was with the loyal party which had carried the country safely through the war These pledges, with others of a similar character were given too recently to admit of the plea that they have been forgotten or to render at all plausible the pretext that a change of circumstances has ensued which makes it necessary to disregard them That they were never given in good faith is evidenced by the premeditated manner with which they have been violated They are to be placed in the long list of deceptive assurances false promises and broken pledges which from one of the distinctive features of "my policy" Johnson does everything by opposites He "makes treason odious" by honoring traitors far above loyal men He "fights out the battle between himself and Congress within the Union party" by appealing from that party to a coalition of rebels and Copperheads He proves that his "whole heart is with the loyal men who carried the country through the war," by opposing every measure they offer, and by seeking to dismiss them from the management of public affairs so as to give the country up to the control of those who were false to it in its great extremity He shows that "if Democrats wish to support him they will be compelled to go to him, as he will never go to them" by authorizing his lieutenants to call a Convention in which he promises to meet these same Democrats more than half way and to which he actually invites men of such pronounced loyalty as Vallandigham, Bright and Fernando Wood In fact, so great is his love for the Union party that he evidently wishes to remove it at once to another world

The treachery of the President, while it brings to the surface of politics that class of men whom the people sent into ignominious retirement during the rebellion, will also be the means of burying Andrew Johnson and his little coterie of flatterers as deep as the doctrine of the Sadducees could send them The authors of the new party movement will gain nothing by their recreancy but disgrace In any event that is inevitable If through their agency, the Democratic party shall be enabled to triumph they will be instantly degraded from the rank of leaders, and the faithful and tried servants of the party exalted in their stead If, on the contrary, the true party of the Union shall maintain the ascendency it will be careful not to confer its most important trusts on those by whom it has been betrayed Andrew Johnson and the few parasitical supporters of his "policy" who have sold him their manhood for his "bread and butter," will be outcasts from every party Their political days are numbered Treachery is always hated even by those whose interests it subserves

The latest dispatches touching the subject of the new party Convention show that there has been another publication of the banns preparatory to the proposed union Some of the principal copperhead leaders have been to the White House, and have received assurance that Johnson has departed far enough from his former principles to entitle him to their full support All the concessions necessary to the proposed union of parties have been made by the President There will no longer be a dispute over the question whether he has gone over to them, or they to him

But as no obligations exist save those of honor, to prevent Mr Johnson from breaking his promises, trying to overthrow the Union party and adopting the principles and policy of Pendleton, Brooks, Seymour and Vallandigham, he probably considers himself perfectly justified in taking his present course and adhering to it under every hazard and to the last extremity

The Bread and butternuts of Santa Clara county, California, have taken steps to have their soup dishes right side up in view of the expected rain of Presidential favors, soon to commence It is a little remarkable that the proposition for a State Convention favorable to "my policy" should have been delayed till within a little over two weeks of the meeting of the "National" Convention and should then emanate from a fourth rate county as to political influence It can scarcely be possible that more than a very small minority of the counties can be represented in the State Convention called California will make but a pitiable showing of devotion to "my policy" with Santa Clara and a few of the surrounding and adjacent counties only, in convention assembled It is, also, quite suggestive that only two Californians—Cole and Hughes—of all the crowd at Washington, can be thought of as delegates, and that the State, or rather the county of Santa Clara, is under the necessity of calling on Maryland, New York, Wisconsin and Illinois to furnish its representation As for the Californians named, Cole is known to be a thorough radical, and to hold "my policy" in the utmost abhorrence. We know nothing of James Hughes For the credit of "my policy" it would have been quite as well if California, at this date, had concluded to remain silent and trust to luck for such bread and butter as the President might condescend to dispense to her

New Jersey.—To auspicate the Johnson movement in New Jersey, the names of such prominent Unionists as ex Governor Newell Representative in Congress from the Trenton district, Hon John V L Stratton, ex Senator Ten Eyck, and Hon. John T Nixon have been mentioned as among the new party, and without their knowledge or consent. The infamous use of these honorable names has so reacted as to give new life and vigor to the Union organization in that State It is predicted that at the coming election the Union majority in New Jersey will be larger than it has been for many years These statements are made one the authority of those who are closely watching political developments in New Jersey

No response has yet been had from Secretary Stanton in regard to the Philadelphia Convention What has Doolittle been about that he has not been "pumping" him? It is not unlikely that the impertinence of this factotum of Johnson's has got a rebuke from Mr Stanton It would be a rich thing if it should come out that he had addressed a letter of inquiry to the Secretary of War, like that he sent to the other Cabinet members, and in reply had been kindly requested to attend to his own business with the additional intimation that he had better devote his energies to settling with his constituents for disobeying their instructions

The New Albany (Ind) Democratic Congressional Convention met on the 29th ult. and passed strong resolutions acknowledging the justice of the late war for the Union What will our Oregon Copperheads say to this? If O Meara were now publishing his Confederate Democrat he would protest against and denounce such a course Now that he is muzzled is there no one of his party brethren in Oregon who will defend the "time-honored principles"? Will the Herald remain dumb?

James Biles has been appointed postmaster at Tumwater, Thurston county Washington Territory.

Eli Walker a gunsmith of Hartford Conn has just inherited an estate in England valued at $35,000,000.

A Swindling Operation.—One of the most glaring swindling operations that has ever come to the notice of the public in Oregon, was revealed to us on Saturday evening, upon the return of our enterprising friend T. J. Carter, Esq., from British Columbia, where he went a few weeks since to look after the valuable interests of the British Columbia Silver Mining Company, at North Cherry Creek, Suswap district. The Company was organized in this city, by some of our most far-seeing and wealthy men, among whom we may mention Mr. Carter, Col. J. S. Ruckel, Messrs. Charles Knowles, D. C. Field, Judge W. W. Page and Mr. Wm. Davidson, of this office, on representations made to them, and specimens of ore showed them, by the Right Honorable Mortimer Robertson. The Company voted money and supplies and appointed Maj. Blake to accompany Robertson to the mine, for the purpose of beginning active operations. Upon reaching Colville, Robertson preceded Maj. Blake, leaving instructions as to how he should follow, which orders the Major faithfully observed, but failed to find the mine. The Company then concluded to send Mr. Carter to look after their interests. His trip was a most interesting one. Mortimer was to meet him first at New Westminster but he was there informed by letter that they should meet at Yale. When Mr. Carter arrived at Yale another letter was found informing him that he would find Mortimer at a certain place on Suswap lake, with a boat and Indians to convey him to the ledge on North Cherry Creek, which was said to be nearly pure silver. Mr. Carter arrived at the appointed place but peered in vain upon the placid waters of the lake for the boat and the discoverer of the surpassingly rich mine. Still persevering he went to where the mine was said to be located, and found—not the ledge—but that he was the first "Boston man" who had ever intruded upon the illahe of a venerable Siwash who was blind in one eye, and had never seen with the other either Hon. Mortimer Robertson nor "any other man" thereabouts, previous to Mr. Carter's going on this trip with his confiding friend. We are in no manner disposed to make light of this subject, and only give the above account of it for the purpose of "checking" against any similar transactions that may be deposited on call in our city. In order to show the confidence of the parties who had engaged in this operation we are told by one of the Company that the financial agent, Mr. Davidson refused one million pounds sterling for his one-third interest, believing that the mine was far richer than those of Peru, and the same authority informs us that Col. Ruckel offered to swap his quartz mill and mines in Baker county for the interests of the Attorney of the Company, Mr. Page, and those of Mr. Daniel. Mr. Page it is said was willing, but Mr. R. was not. Some few of the Company yet stick to it that Robertson is the "smartest man they have ever struck," and next week several of them will leave Portland for Colville, where they expect to meet Major Blake, and thence upon mules will proceed to Big Bend, to convey to Robertson the greetings of the Company, and express their convictions to him that they have become wiser although out and injured.

Sailed.—The steamships Oriflamme, of the California, Oregon and Mexico Line, and Montana, of the Anchor Line (opposition), sailed from this port on Saturday evening, at 9 o'clock, for San Francisco. The amount of freight shipments was not very large. The Oriflamme took treasure to the amount of $200,000, which appears upon the manifest to the credit of the following parties:

Wells, Fargo & Co	$100,000
Ladd & Tilton	30,000

For steamer Montana—Mrs. E. Beyers, A. A. Brown, C. Burmister, John White, J. D. Thurving & wife, Dr. H. Bigelow, wife & two children, Dr. Watson, A. C. Kinney, Mrs. Clara Bonner, John Randles, Miss Chapman, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Delschneider, P. Watson, P. Hildath, John Higgins, P. H. Mills, H. Duffey, H. Miller, L. Phipe, J. Starr & wife, G. H. Suldricks, wife & child, M. Gatons, B. O. Severance, D. H. Casteman, G. P. Abbott & wife, H. L. Cooper & wife, B. T. Brown, J. A. Burgess, L. F. Hulter, J. T. Baldwin, A. Eastabrooks, O. W. Burnett, J. C. Crufflinger, Z. G. Grower, Rev. W. A. Fenley, E. J. Pratt, B. F. Moorehead, Martin Der, Frindle, John Shehan, T. Rogers, D. Cahill, J. Conner, D. O'Neal, Ira West, Jacob Bowes, W. Fry, F. Ensby, Jos. Rogers, Emma Rogers, and 30 others.

Exports by the Montana were as follows: 10,870 staves; 3,000 shooks for sugar kegs; 155 bales and 15 cases of merchandise, manufactured goods, etc.; 247 barrels and 151 half-barrels salmon; 25 barrels pitch; 2 cases and 2 bales of furs; 1 roll leather; 6 boxes eggs; 22 half-barrels dried apples, and a few articles of less value.

Disturbing the Performers.—"The Varieties" is a title given to a series of performances now being rendered at Willamette Theatre in this city. A little episode occurred on Saturday night, which, not being on the bill, caused some considerable confusion, as the particular performer in that part, a drunken spectator was put out. It is told of a "place of amusement" like this, not located at Aspinwall, nor quite so far from Portland, that there appeared at the door one evening a gentleman and lady who are known to be highly respectable people. The outside manager being a person of integrity, and not desiring to impose upon the feelings of a party worthy of esteem, quietly informed the gentleman visitor that it was not a fit place to take his lady. Thanking the manager the couple withdrew, the money having first been refunded. In order to avoid a repetition of the kind it was deemed prudent to employ an usher whose business it should be to notify respectable gentlemen, accompanied by ladies, of the character of the performance. The usher was secured, and on the first night of his engagement a couple appeared whom he considered of that class he had been employed to wait upon, but his composition was of such brassy metal that he did not seemingly understand how to approach the parties, and after hesitating a moment he concluded to make short work of it, and put this flat interrogatory to the lady: "Madam, are you respectable?" The question, as might be supposed, greatly incensed the gentleman escort, who was just preparing to knock the impertinent fellow down, but before committing the overt act he addressed Mr. Usher as follows: "Of course she is, sir; why do you ask such a question?" The explanation was: "Well, sir, if your lady is reportable, then it is my duty to inform you that this is no place for her." Money was again refunded, and the gentleman and lady retired.

Poor Economy.—The sums paid every month for the maintenance of vagrants and other parties who are committed to jail upon conviction for violation of ordinances for the government of the peace and quiet of this city is sometimes pretty large, and as no provision is made by which an account can be opened to offset the balance, it is uniformly and with great regularity passed to the profit and loss side of the ledger without comment. The city now has a long continuous stretch of streets to be kept in repair at the expense of the public, and some of these streets are already in need of work upon them. Before the rainy season comes all new streets will require more or less attention, and in order that convicted persons may pay their board, and that the expenses of the city in this respect may be reduced, action ought to be had by the Council at once, providing for a chain gang. The policy of feeding these worthies at the cost of the tax payers, without any return from them, is one of doubtful economy, which has been too long indulged.

Headquarters.—The chief place of resort for Oregonians in San Francisco, is at 116 Montgomery street, the office of Mr. Joseph Frazier, agent of the Rubber Clothing Company, and at the establishment of Mr. J. W. J. Pierson, next door, 110. The fact that Mr. Frazier sells Rubber Clothing has not so much to do with the congregation of Webfeet at his place, as that he is a very companionable gentleman. Mr. Magill, of the Phœnix Insurance company, and Mr. Dell, his associate, as well as the agreeable gentlemen of the Bulletin establishment, may be classed among those who take a pride in rendering ones stay at the Bay pleasant, which is also the case with our young friend Sam. Whipple, whom we found on our visit at 714 Montgomery street. The elixir of a trip to California, really is in finding such persons as we refer to, whose composition is of such fine spirit that it transmits the baser incidents of the visit into unalloyed pleasure.

Arrests.—Judge Hoffman's levees have been so meagre for some time past in the Police Court, that he took occasion of the dearth to visit Washington Territory, but on his return he will find plenty to engage his attention. During Saturday and yesterday numerous arrests of disorderly persons were made by the Police, and rows common and domestic have been quite frequent. The most recent engagement occurred last evening on Front street, where a troublesome spouse and her liege lord were seen in a bit of a "dis-cussion" which was shortly followed by blows. The Madam struck Monsieur with a sprig of shillalah, when the latter retorted, and to use a disreputable phrase, "upset her apple-cart quite handsomely."

Botanical Lecture.—Prof. Wood, now in our city, has consented to deliver a lecture this evening at the Methodist Episcopal church, on matters pertaining to Botany, for the benefit of the Sabbath School. The care and attention which Prof. Wood has devoted to the subject will enable him to treat on that branch of science in a most relishing form, no doubt. A lecture from him, treating upon the structure of plants, the functions of their parts, their places of growth, classification, terms, etc., after his extensive researches upon our coast, will be doubly interesting. All should try and attend. The fee for admission at the door will be nominal, and will be devoted for a worthy purpose.

Company Drill.—The Washington Guard were out in Company drill on Friday evening, in full dress, and made a fine appearance, marching to the air of the tenor and fife. This Company is deserving of much praise for the efforts the members have evinced in their determination to keep up their organization with all the obstacles in their way, under the present law of the State regarding the militia.

Cherries.—Our friend, H. Saxer, Esq., of the wine depot, on First street, has placed upon our table a bunch of fully matured, delicious cherries, of the May Duke variety, which are from the second crop of this year, grown on a tree in the garden at his residence in this city. This is a very interesting matter to pomologists, and it speaks considerably in favor of the productiveness of our State for fruit.

Church Meeting.—The members and congregation of the First Presbyterian Church are requested to meet at the Church at 7½ P. M., to-day, for the transaction of important business connected with the Church.

The Weather.—The weather in the region of Portland is now about as luxurious as anything we can speak of. The days are pleasant, and the nights cool and serene. Our young people, and it may be some of the older ones, are enjoying themselves heartily on moonlight excursions, and all may feel a sense of gratitude that their lot is cast in no worse place. There is no comparison between the climate here and that of our sister state, California, at this most interesting season. Our young friend Ward, late of the telegraphic corps in this city, is now at Sacramento, where the people are enjoying such luxuries as earthquakes, fever and ague, mosquitoes, and hot weather in abundance, while in the region of San Francisco those earthquakes are mixed with a hurricane of wind every day, and clouds of the most penetrating dust powder that can be conceived of. There may be a short period in winter when Californians can discount us with respect to the weather, but the season is so insignificantly brief that after all we are lead to realize the advantages this section possesses.

Surplus Capital being Employed.—A fine new steamer has been built in San Francisco and named S. M. Whipple, for her owner, to run in opposition to the Yosemite and Capital, of the California Steam Navigation Company, between San Francisco and Sacramento. She will begin her regular trips to-day, carrying freight and passengers for a song. She is a fine steamer, and we learned was built by Mr. Whipple for the purpose of bringing the old company to terms, they having refused to buy coal of him. There is such an abundance of the genial cash in certain circles of California that the holders are sometimes perplexed to know how they can best employ it. Sam Brannan has expended probably not less than $150,000 at a favorite watering place in Napa county—Calistoga—and is still making improvements, of which investment he will probably never realize ten per cent on any conditions. We could give the holders of this superabundant coin a better show for their money, if they would but invest it in Oregon.

Oregonians in California.—A private dispatch informs us that of the Oregonians in California at the present time seeking a relaxation from business, Dr. A. M. Loryea will return by the Oriflamme. Gov. Woods and family will probably return by the Montana. Dr. J. A. Chapman, Hon. J. H. Mitchell, Judge Lacy and Mr. Buck will be likely to return overland. Mr. Elfelt, of the firm of A. B. Elfelt & Co., will spend a few months there, and return by the Oriflamme. They all contemplated visiting the popular places of interest in the State, but sickness in the family of Dr. Loryea calls him home sooner than he expected.

Furniture Sale.—Many really fine articles of furniture will be disposed of to-day at a special auction sale by Mr. Richardson, on the premises of Mr. Simon, corner of Fourth and Morrison streets. See advertisement.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The Vancouver Register of the 28th, furnishes the subjoined news items:

THE VANCOUVER QUARTZ MINES.

The work of tunneling is going forward on the Columbia and Rising Sun, and Lawrence & Co. are running their arastra. We have seen some of the rock taken out this week. It looks much better than the surface rock and is raising the expectations of the owners.

THE SALMON TRADE AT OAK POINT.

A company established near Oak Point mainly for the purpose of putting up salmon for the Australian trade, have expended about $10,000 in the construction of warehouses and wharves, and other buildings and improvements necessary for the prosecution of their business. Their method is first to catch the salmon, of course, and then after having cut them into pieces of proper size and shape they put them into cans and seal up the cans hermetically. They are then ready for market. We understand it is not the intention of the company to confine their operations exclusively to the Salmon business but that they intend to put up fruits in the same manner.

We understand that Mr. Lewis Leber, of this county, is making arrangements to build a first-class saw-mill back in the cedar district some 12 or 15 miles from this place.

The Olympia Tribune of the 21st, furnishes the following:

MARRIAGE OF "EMIGRATION MERCER."

Hon. A. S. Mercer was married one day last week to Miss Annie Stevens, one of the "Mercer girls." The Tribune expresses the fear that "this last act of his will have a tendency to cool his ardor in the emigration business."

A BRITISH STEAMER SEIZED.

The British steamer Henrietta, Captain Dodge, was seized at Port Angelos lately for coming over to the American side without papers. She was trying to escape British creditors.

SKAMANIA COUNTY NOT DIVIDED.

By letters from Washington we learn that Congress has refused to confirm the law of this Territory dividing Skamania county.

THE COLLECTORSHIP INVESTIGATION.

A correspondent of the Alta Californian, writing from Washington, under date of May 31st, says: "Mr. Denny, of Washington Territory, informs me that the investigation in relation to the matters connected with the Collectorship of Puget Sound has resulted in the complete vindication of Fred. Wilson, the Collector."

The effect of civilization on rivers is seen on the river Thames in England. In 1852 the minimum discharge was 460,000,000 gallons daily; in 1855 it fell to 300,000,000 gallons.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which even commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of Health. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the System, and sustain
The Nerves, the servants of the brain.
The Liver keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day,
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the inner man,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with rational time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"Hostetter's Bitters," we reply,
Is Health's supreme protection—try!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air.
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent:
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the surest antidote.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
Hostetter's Bitters—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, billious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet-marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle-aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.

Navigation of the Missouri

The [illegible] says The Missouri river has been from the early settlement of this Territory regarded by its citizens as one of the main arteries through which was to flow the means of subsistence and the machinery and materials necessary for carrying on the great industrial pursuits of the country Long before the event of the gold hunting whites an occasional boat [illegible] its turbid waters bringing up supplies for the American Fur Company, and articles with which to barter for furs then the only known product of this country This intermittent species of navigation attracted no attention in commercial circles for the reason the objective point was practically nowhere and the trade being restricted to a solitary and limited pursuit, no field was offered for the operation of capital Since the discovery of gold and the influx of population steamboatmen have made the experiment of supplying the increasing wants of our people through this channel In the summer of 1864 ten boats came up the river, of which four reached Fort Benton in 1865 twenty boats came up of which four reached Fort Benton This year fourteen have already reached it and others will hereafter arrive The water of the river has been at an unprecedented high stage and very rapid this season and the heavy boats have been most successful In former years, the light draught boats have seemed to succeed better

In view of the experience of the past the inquiry very naturally suggests itself what is necessary for the successful navigation of the Missouri, and is this navigation of any value to the people of this Territory? Taking into consideration the delays expense of transportation and possibility of but one yearly communication with the east, and the profits of the merchant narrowed down to those derived from a single investment in a whole year, and the question would seem to be decided adversely to the river trade Eastern and Pacific merchants are now doing business here side by side, and this season will decide which will carry the key to the miner's pocket—cheap goods Both boast that they can sell the cheapest. California merchants claim that all imported goods can be landed in San Francisco as cheap (and some articles cheaper) as they can in New York City, and that Atlantic goods are only three-fourths of a cent per pound higher than they are in New York, and that they can be transported to this country overland, for from fifteen to twenty cents per pound The freight cost of none of the eastern goods that will reach this market will be less than fifteen cents, after it reaches the Missouri river, to this place and the long and expensive railroad transportation intersecting between that point and New York city added to this cost would place the first on an equal footing with the race of competition for the trade of Montana Then the ability of western merchants to replenish their stocks, and turn their capital three or four times a year gives them a decided advantage, and the safety of transportation and the certainty in securing goods at stated periods forms a desideratum greatly prized in commercial enterprises Some of the goods that came up last spring were landed at Fort Union, and some at the intermediate points between that place and Fort Benton, some have not arrived yet, and some were coming all the time between last July and January It is a self evident proposition that such transportation is unsatisfactory It involves the owner in embarrassment—frequently compels sacrifices—and will be avoided by business men unless the profits are somewhat commensurate with the risks

No one is prepared to say that the navigation of the Missouri river is impracticable, but that as it is at present conducted, it is not worthy the patronage of the business community The boats used in the trade were none of them built for it but are old mud tubs grown gray in creeping up the deep and sluggish rivers of the western States In traveling a distance of three thousand miles, it would not be strange that parts of the river should be found requiring boats of different capacity, strength, and draught and that the whole trip should require convenient stations where wood could be obtained and the cargoes placed in boats more suitable to the nature of the river As well might the Overland stage line attempt to send one of its coaches through with one team and send the passengers out in the sand hills for food as to attempt to run steamboats in this way The one is as absurd in staging as the other is in navigation Some of the enterprise displayed on the Sacramento or Columbia rivers would make Missouri river navigation a success It would be far better to place goods in barges, and have them towed by tugs adapted to the different kinds of navigation found along this river than the present style of doing business

If our friends in the East regard our wealth as anything to them they must display some enterprise in fostering it The good fortune and high water which has brought goods here this spring is exceptional, and business men may thereby be entrapped into ordering goods next year by the river and find them left at Fort Union, and the snow flying before they have realized anything for their sales

When the trade of the eastern merchants will have departed from our dealers forever, they may attempt to win us with boats built especially for the trade, and every appliance to make navigation as certain and secure as possible, but capital that is timid, will shudder at the great muddy and nestle in the lap of the peaceful occident

BATTLEFIELD OF GETTYSBURG —A dispatch dated at Gettysburg, (Pa) June 20th, says

The field of Gettysburg has been the scene of a very interesting visit to day A portion of the Military Committee of the two Houses accompanied by a party of ladies and gentlemen left Washington yesterday evening and came directly to this place in a special car This morning they visited all portions of the field, and the various movements which took place were explained by Colonel Bachelder the historian of the battle At noon the party was received by the citizens of Gettysburg at Culp's Hill where some of the hottest fighting took place and treated to a very elegant collation The party was welcomed by Mayor McCreary and both General Schenck and Senator Lane replied After the dinner most appropriate and interesting addresses were delivered by Representatives General Paine of Wisconsin General Hayes of Ohio General Ketcham of New York Sitgreaves of New Jersey Ancona of Pennsylvania Taffe of New York Hubbard of New York Edward McPherson of Gettysburg, Clerk of the House of Representatives and Colonel McFarland After this Senator Lane and General Schenck were again called for and responded in very eloquent addresses, The party was handsomely entertained this evening by Edward McPherson

INDIANA OHIO AND WISCONSIN —Governors Morton of Indiana Cox of Ohio and Fairchild of Wisconsin have decided not to call extra sessions of the Legislatures of their States to pass the constitutional amendment preferring that the people should pass upon the amendment at the Fall election

GREELEY —Horace Greeley has written a letter to a Fenian meeting in New York in which he says I have faith that the time is not far distant when Ireland shall be governed by the Irish and that they will be as they surely ought to be earnestly devoted to the liberty of all men all nations all races here and everywhere

Fitz John Porter now resides in Morristown N J

The Scene in Europe

The following is [illegible] of the situation of matters in Europe [illegible] to the [illegible] June

The right wing of the Austrian army consisting of 300 000 men is concentrated in Austrian Silesia and Western Gallicia The line extends from Cracow to Trautenau [illegible] villages in that neighborhood [illegible] all the forces are so disposed that a strong [illegible] Prussian Silesia twenty [illegible] The whole force is in the highest state of efficiency

The Prussian army [illegible] reports [illegible] is kept in reserve [illegible] ready for a [illegible] The king [illegible] of the [illegible] Berlin to take the places assigned them Francis Joseph and the Austrian Archduke will also take the field [illegible] English journal [illegible] are to [illegible] the shock of battle

The occupation of Holstein by Prussian forces although virtually an act of war [illegible] important result The Austrian troops [illegible] Prussians peacefully fell back to Altona a suburb of Hamburg and there awaited further orders It is probable that General Gablenz will return to Austria through Hanover to join the main army If there is to be war the opening of hostilities may be looked for in Silesia

The enormous demand for men and money has paralyzed industry in Prussia and from all parts of that country we hear of popular clamors and discontent In Berlin those disturbances have become riots A correspondent from that city writes that many poor people are already reduced to the verge of starvation Of eight thousand journeymen joiners who had steady employment five weeks ago five thousand are thrown out of work the women and children belonging to the families of the 400 000 men of the reserves are left absolutely destitute by the conscription of their protectors into the army crowds of operatives are clamoring for work

In Heidelberg also a popular outbreak has occurred During the first week in June that city was the scene of riot [illegible] and deplorable excesses were committed A correspondent of the Paris Times writes as follows, under date of June 5th

At first the popular passions were directed against the [illegible] In the midst of wild cries stones were flung against those shops the windows and shutters broken and the furniture destroyed The day before yesterday the shops of the butchers, bakers and the houses of some Jews were attacked Officers and gendarmes were maltreated Showers of stones were flung at the landwehr who fired on the people One man was killed and twenty wounded

At Cologne, an officer who tried to arrest a man belonging to the landwehr who had not saluted him was pelted by the market women with potatoes carrots and cabbages and forced to take refuge in the guard house

The offensive and defensive treaty between Prussia and Italy has been signed and General Govone has left Berlin for Florence The eagerness of the Italian people for war is irrepressible Volunteers continue to arrive at the camps daily in great numbers and the regular army is ready to move at a moment's notice Garibaldi who was expected to arrive at Florence early in June has postponed his departure from Caprera intending to await a final summons from the King

The Austrian Army of the South, in Italy, under command of the Archduke Albert is composed of four divisions under Archduke Ernest Prince Lichtenstein General Von Maroicic and General Hartung It consists of 192 420 men of whom 1 840 are cavalry Eighty thousand are destined for the field, 40 000 for the fortresses and 20 000 for the coast of Italy and Venice The Third corps which is on the Friuli and at Laybach consists of 50 000 men but troops which for the moment figure in the army of the South are in reality destined for the north Near Gratz are about 40,000 men intended to reinforce either army in case of need

JOHNSON BOUGHT AND SOLD AND THE BARGAIN SEALED —The President of the United States is again obstreperous The governmental troubles of the State of Tennessee afford the occasion for his last exhibition of authority Numbers of the members of her Legislature are intractable and Governor Brownlow holds one of the bolting members under arrest, and purposes to pursue the same course with others, for the sake of securing a quorum for the passage of the Constitutional Amendment It is declared that Andrew Johnson sides with the refractory members, and it will be seen that even Secretary Stanton refuses to send reinforcements at the request of General Thomas, to restore order and a proper observance of the laws, on the ground that it is a matter for State and not National legislation Therein he is, probably, correct It is said that after the late passage of the Freedmen's Bureau bill over Mr Johnson's veto, there is to be no parleying with the President—who has gone over body and boots to the Copperheads He has openly declared war against the Union party, and will be henceforward something like a nonentity This is the "new party movement," to which allusion has so frequently been made and if the President could only carry with him the bulk of the conservatives as he expected it would be a success The faint fact that his plans have been fully endorsed by the rebel faction, which expected once to get the supreme power once more in its hands by this means, shows conclusively the game which he has all along been playing, and what the Union party might expect hereafter by a split in its ranks It will never answer for it to be divided on side political issues until the war between the North and South has been settled in the public bodies of the nation, as it already has in the field South Carolina has officially indorsed the President's action and that is doubtless the greatest compliment in Johnson's esteem, that could be paid him Let him look to his disloyal compatriots of the South and their Northern congeners for all the support they will get in the future

One serious charge against the President is that he has introduced the system of trafficking in office to a much greater extent than was ever known before Randall was chairman of the President's political committee and was his Assistant Postmaster General, and it is Randall whose name has been sent in by Mr Johnson for the office of the higher Postmastership—his principal having resigned, on refusal to follow the doctrines and obey the commands of the President Senator Sherman of Ohio was ever one of the friends of the policy of the Government, but after the veto of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, he admonished the people of the use that was to be made of the Federal patronage of the President, and the Cabinet was at an end The customary form of removal is resignation Doolittle of Wisconsin who goes the whole Johnson figure, should form one of the incoming Cabinet It would then be complete Then for the abolishment of the obnoxious "Rump"—Sac Bee

ON THE CRISIS —The Bulletin has a leader on the Johnson Philadelphia embroglio, from which we extract the following

Last evening we published what for several weeks has been anticipated with considerable curiosity—the call for the Philadelphia Convention As we expected it would be found it is an invitation extended to Democrats Copperheads recusant Unionists and such other Unionists as may be inveigled into the trap, to convene in a grand and enthusiastic conclave intended to give the death blow to the noble old party that crushed out treason, and that still stands (and we hope will continue to stand) the guardian of an absolute not a mere extrinsic nationality Wisconsin a State as true as truth itself to the Union party and to the Union cause—leads off in the new movement Ex Gov Randall (now Postmaster General) heads the list for the call Never mind him! Senator Doolittle's name follows Governor Randall's The Senator is the wire puller of the whole affair He it is who wrote the categorical letters to the members of the Cabinet and to Gen Dix and perhaps to Generals Grant and Sherman and Sheridan and any indefinite number of other prominent individuals both in civil and military life His experience in playing, in the past with parties must have taught him this new trick He never yet has been steadfast to any party and his main object in his political life seems to have been to see how many summersaults he could turn and how many of the number he could turn successfully In 1844 he voted in New York for Polk In 1848 he not only voted for Van Buren but as a member of the famous Buffalo Convention he introduced resolutions which were adopted by which every delegate pledged his honor to maintain forever the principles of the Free Soil party In 1852 the Free Soilers had their Presidential candidate in the field but Mr Doolittle (who in the meantime had removed to Wisconsin) voted for Pierce He obtained a Circuit Judgeship for his services in the campaign and clung to it only to the Kansas Nebraska party but to the nomination of Buchanan until about six weeks before the election Wisconsin was one of the States certain in the cause of Fremont Suddenly Judge Doolittle changed front to the utter disgust of the Buchanites and came out vigorously for the Pathfinder A United States Senator was to be elected that year and Doolittle secured the prize

One hundred and fifty thousand copies of Horace Greeley's "American Conflict" have been sold by the Hartford publishers

Horrible Diseases.

It was only [illegible] thousands of persons both male and female [illegible] are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians [illegible] attention to those who are suffering with any of these terrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cured [illegible] Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made a private disease his special study for years and who is certain to cure them at inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who [illegible] in all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

LEFFEL'S

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works in the city of Portland and orders for the same can be filled immediately We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way Take the width of the stream the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power under a head of 25 or 30 feet They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all Come and see them or send for a circular to building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL
